

EASD MEDIA GUIDELINES

54th Annual Meeting of the European Association for the Study of Diabetes

General Regulations

1. Any press/media representative (journalist, reporter, blogger, photographer, film crew member etc.) must adhere to the guidelines stipulated here below. EASD embargo policy and filming/photography/recording policy are part of the Media Guidelines.
2. All registered journalists and media representatives are expected to be compliant with the Media and Social Media Guidelines. Failure to do so will result in loss of Press Delegate privileges and access will be denied for future EASD meetings. EASD may seek legal action against those concerned.
3. The EASD logo, The European Foundation for the Study of Diabetes (EFSD) logo and the EASD Annual Meeting logo are the property of EASD. They cannot be used without requesting permission beforehand.
4. The list of registered Press Delegates will not be made available to third parties by the EASD (except for processing registration) due to its data and privacy protection regulations.
5. Everyone who requests registration as a Press Delegate must acknowledge and accept the EASD Media Guidelines. Otherwise access to the EASD Annual Meeting will be denied.

Registration

EASD will accept registrations from journalists and media representatives certifying their status by either a valid press ID card (no business cards) or a letter of assignment from the editorial office of their news organization.

For pre-congress registration, it is required to upload a copy of the press ID card or letter of assignment during the online registration process. No registration will be processed further without this supporting document. For onsite registration, journalists and media representatives are required to present the supporting document to the staff at the Press Registration counter

Industry spokespersons, staff and PR/communications agents are not eligible for press registration.

EASD reserves the right to deny press registration to anybody it considers not to meet these criteria and the decision of the EASD Press Office is final regarding all press registration requests.
